James P. Tullis, Milwaukee, former partner of Harry Carroll in the South Janesville hotel, was given the maximum fine of $1,000 and costs when he pleaded guilty Tuesday to violation of the liquor laws. He explained to the court that his non-appearance Monday was due to misunderstanding the day.

Monday was a "blue day" for bootleggers in Rock county. Three were fined the maximum amount, $1,000 and costs, a fourth due to be handed a stiff sentence or have his bonds forfeited and the fifth with a fine of $200 and costs because of previous good character.

Arraigned before Judge George Grimm in the Rock county circuit court on Monday afternoon were: W. E. Lawyer, operator of the London hotel; Harry Carroll, formerly connected with one of the South Janesville resorts; and Austin Parrell, Evansville, all having pleaded guilty through counsel to possession of intoxicating liquor. James P. Tullis was also scheduled to appear at the same time for sentence, but did not make an appearance. All four cases were brought to the circuit court on change of venue proceedings from the Rock county municipal court in Janesville.

In a clear cut statement Judge Grimm made known his attitude on sentences for violating of the prohibition laws. He put to rest any claims that the circuit court was "easy" and backed up his statement by imposing the maximum sentence allowable on two of the defendants, and gave Tullis until Tuesday morning to appear for sentence before the liquor board in Rock county.

There are times when an imprisonment in the county jail under the present law means almost nothing," declared the court. "In too many cases this is no punishment to the offenders at all."

Warning was given to owners of property occupied by defendants in liquor violation cases that they too, as well as the tenant, could be held liable by the defendant in such cases. W. E. Lawyer—$1,000 fine and costs or six months in jail. To be paid.

Harry Carroll—$1,000 and costs or six months in jail, which was paid by the defendant in cash. W. E. Lawyer—$1,000 fine and costs or six months in jail. To be paid.

900 Escape from Mine by Miracle

West Frankfort, Ill.—The explosion at mine No. 1 of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal company, yesterday, probably was caused by Harry Odle, one of the two men killed, who had attempted to recover a set of tools he several days ago left in a worked out room of the colliery, according to officials of the company.

Odle, the officials said, was climbing over a pile of debris and his torch probably ignited gas that had accumulated at the top of the room. Nine men were still in the local hospital today, three having gone home. Physicians said all probably would recover. The burns, in all probability, will not disable any of them, it was added.

The fact that approximately 900, who were in the mine at the time of the blast, escaped without even a scratch, with the chief topic of conversation today. All agreed it was the room or "panel" system at the colliery that allowed so many men to get to the surface unharmed.

RAW OYSTERS HELD CAUSE OF TYPHOID IN CHICAGO SCARE

Chicago—Raw oysters of a certain brand are barred from sale in more than two score stores in Chicago's north shore suburbs, as a result of an order of local and state health authorities, who consider the oysters responsible for an epidemic of typhoid fever in the district. Investigation of 26 cases of typhoid in Evanston, Ill., by Dr. C. T. Hensley, health commissioner, developed that each one of the patients had eaten oysters of the same brand before showing symptoms of the fever, according to a statement. Tests of milk and water supplies found them free of contamination.

WARNS OF SPREAD OF CHICKEN POX
City Health Officer Asks Parents' Aid to Check Disease.

An increase in the number of cases of chicken pox in Janesville since Nov. 1 has caused Dr. Fred B. Welch, city health officer, to sound a warning, calling attention to the economic loss which results from non-school attendance.

"The prevention and control of this disease depends almost entirely upon the response and the co-operation of the individual families," Dr. Welch said. "Children who are not well and those who have a skin eruption should not be sent to school, but should be isolated until a diagnosis can be made."

SUICIDE HELD PROBABILITY
Madison—A finding of "probable death by suicide" was returned today by Coroner Joseph Stephenson after investigating the death of Willard L. Fuller, Madison restaurant keeper, who was found in a local hotel late yesterday. The verdict followed an examination of a liquid found in Fuller's room which was declared to be a deadly poison.

ROBBERY VICTIM IS SHOT DOWN BY TRIO OF BANDITS

KILLED AFTER SEARCH, THOUGH SHOWING NO RESISTANCE. THREE IN TOILS
Robbers Had Held Up Other Automobile Parties, Is Claim of Police.

Los Angeles—Charles A. Chapman, 25, an insurance salesman, was shot and killed early this morning by a trio of automobile bandits after they had stopped his car and forced him and a woman companion out of the machine.

Chapman offered no resistance, the woman said, but was shot down after he had been searched for valuables. He died an hour later. Three men are being held in connection with the shooting. Their names are being withheld.

SEIZURE OF RUM SHIP IS DEFENDED AS WHOLLY LEGAL

Washington—Seizure of the rum schooner Tomoko on the high seas off the New Jersey coast represents, in the opinion of some court guards officials, a broader interpretation than heretofore invoked of treasury regulations affecting the taking of alleged smugglers flying foreign flags while beyond the three mile limit.

Treasury officials, however, emphasized today that the schooner, which was flying the British flag, was taken into custody Sunday under regulations already in effect, and that the policy of seizing rum ships outside the three mile limit would be continued wherever adequate evidence was obtained that they were in contact with the shore in such a way as to constitute a violation of the American laws. No change in the regulations, it was said, has been authorized.

The seizure was made at the request of the department of justice, it was announced, on the basis of evidence it had gathered as to the alleged activities of the Tomoko. Although details of the evidence have not been made public here, it is understood the information covered all recent movements of the Tomoko and positively identified the vessel with the illegal handling of liquor on the American coast.

INTERNATIONAL CROOK TAKEN IN HONOLULU

Honolulu—Louis Edwards, who admits he is one of six prisoners who escaped from the eastern Pennsylvania penitentiary at Philadelphia, July 14, according to police, was arrested here yesterday on information obtained by authorities from a circular.

Edwards is described by officers as an "international crook." He came to Honolulu recently with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which visited Hawaii on a trade excursion.

According to his story, the six prisoners paid $20,000 to guards at the prison and were permitted to escape in an ash wagon. He is said to have been serving a sentence of 12 years in the penitentiary.

DEBT COMMISSION PLANS NO ACTION
Washington—There is no immediate prospect of further action by the American debt commission looking to the collection of war loans to foreign country a high official of the treasury said.

"TRUTH SERUM" TO BE TRIED ON CONVICT PATIENTS

New Orleans—Dr. R. E. House of Morris, Tex., credited with having discovered that persons under the influence of scopolamine will tell the truth when questioned, expected today to give a demonstration at the parish prison here before the New Orleans medical society, police officials and newspapermen with volunteer witnesses as the subjects.

The "truth serum" is nothing more than the drug administered by obstetricians to produce "twilight sleep," Dr. House said. In Texas several years ago he asked the husband of a patient under the influence of the drug to get him a certain article. The husband returned and reported that he could not find it, whereupon the patient without opening his eyes or showing any signs of consciousness told him where to look for it.

With the incident in mind, Dr. House thereafter questioned the patients while under the influence of the drug and in 1921, after numerous experiments, made public his discovery.

QUICK SHOWDOWN IS DEMANDED OF OKLAHOMA SOLONS

LEADERS REBUKE BOTH HOUSES, CHARGING INSINCERITY. ACTION DELAYED
Bitter Fight in Prospect Over Anti-Klan Laws Under Discussion.

Oklahoma City—The State senate today adopted a clause in the bill to regulate secret orders making it a misdemeanor to wear a mask. The action was greeted by proponents of Klan legislation as the greatest concession made thus far by the group opposing secret regulatory laws. The vote was 24 to 13.

Rebuked by their leaders for alleged insincerity in their consideration of anti-Klan Klan measures, members of both houses of the state legislature went into session today to renew discussion of the proposed legislation, with its opponents holding the whip hand. The controversy now extended into the lower house, it has become increasingly apparent that the end of the "Strommen" session has found the job too difficult and has given up the task, Tuesday dispatches report.

DELAVAN MAN IS INJURED BY CAR

Foreman of Telephone Gang Struck by Auto While on Highway.

Delavan—Mark White, 56, was run down Tuesday by a car driven by Mrs. R. A. Bennett of Delavan, on the Delavan-Beloit road. White was rebounding blue points and, when he stepped from the path of one car, he fell directly in front of Mrs. Bennett's auto.

White was struck by one fender, thrown against the windshield of the car and then hurled into the ditch. Unconscious, he was taken to the office of Dr. Crowe. His face was severely bruised and it is believed his shoulder may be broken.

He is foreman of the men who are rebuilding the telephone system at Delavan and vicinity.

GIVES UP TASK

Dr. Heinrich Albert.

Dr. Heinrich Albert, chosen by President Ebert of Germany to form a new ministry, following the end of the "Strommen" session, has found the job too difficult and has given up the task, Tuesday dispatches report.

FACTIONAL ENMITY BALKS DR. ALBERT AT EVERY TURN
GERMANY WITHOUT GOVERNMENT DIRECTION IN INTERIM. HELD INTRUDER
Dissolution of Reichstag May Follow As Only Way to Relief.

London—Dr. Heinrich Albert has relinquished the task of forming a ministry for the German reich, says an agency dispatch from Berlin. Germany thus is still without a government after an interval of four days since the resignation of the Stresemann ministry which, however, is still nominally functioning and interim.

Dr. Albert's lack of success was attributed to the decision of all the political parties in the reichstag to oppose a non-partisan cabinet.

PARTY LEADERS LOOK ON DR. ALBERT AS INTRUDER
Berlin—The political turmoil amid which Dr. Stresemann stepped from the chancellorship and proved a burdensome legacy to Dr. Heinrich F. Albert, the non-partisan designate, at every hand Dr. Albert's attempts to organize a non-partisan government are being thwarted by the party leaders who look upon him as an intruder. Although dissolution of the reichstag is generally regarded as the only means of relieving the situation, President Ebert is hesitating to take the step, apparently preferring to give Dr. Albert every opportunity to form a cabinet.

An alternative suggestion which apparently was relegated to the rear for the time being at least, in favor of the five party attempt, was an effort to form a bourgeois cabinet composed of representatives of the German nationalists, centrists and German socialists. The party leaders of the laboration subject to two conditions, first, that the government must be along constitutional lines, and second, that the party Versaillais must be regarded as binding.

Lack of agreement among the parties on these conditions has seemed to be the chief obstacle. A candidate for the post of chancellor in such a bourgeois cabinet was Dr. Jarres, minister of the interior in the Stresemann cabinet.

HITCHCOCK TO DIRECT HIRAM

Chicago—The campaign opened by United States Senator Hiram Johnson of California for the republican presidential nomination is to get under way in earnest after his first direct in person appearance of his candidacy to be made here tonight, the senator indicated by his appointment of Harris Hitchcock as general manager of his campaign.

BOOZE REAPS TWO MORE

Superior—Bootleg whiskey accounted for two deaths in Superior last night. Michael Speller, under its influence, strangled himself with a leather belt.

George Harrison, 28, a sailor, was drowned when he fell from a coal dock into Superior bay. He was intoxicated.

FAST TRAIN IN CRASH; 2 ARE INJURED

Chicago—Two persons were seriously injured and scores of passengers were shaken when the Columbia crack train from Seattle on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, ran into an open switch and crashed into the rear of an empty train in the central part of Chicago last night.

The persons reported injured were Mrs. Katherine Stemak of Chicago, and Paul Kammar, a tower man, whose tower was partially torn down. He was crushed and burned.

The Columbia was scarcely a mile from the Union station when the crash occurred at Kinzie street and Union avenue. The locomotive of the crack train ploughed through the rear coach of the empty train. Approximately 140 passengers were aboard.

BROOKLYN VETERAN MARRIES GIRL HE MET IN GERMANY

Brooklyn, N.Y.—A man who started in Germany when Norman C. Smith, Brooklyn, N.Y., was a member of Uncle Sam's army of occupation, culminated at the altar of the Methodist church here Monday when Miss Pauline A. Klutnerman, Jacksonville, Fla., became his bride. The bride is 20 and the bridegroom 31.

FORD RAIL OFFICIAL READY TO TESTIFY

Washington—E. G. Leibold, vice president of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, Henry Ford's railroad, notified the Interstate Commerce commission today that he was willing to appear before it next Tuesday to present his company's view on railroad consolidation. A hearing was set for that day.

PRODUCTS AND ICE COMPANY IS FINED

Chicago—The Aurora Products and Ice company was fined $2,500 for violation of prohibition laws.

HORSE STRUCK BY CAR; LEG BROKEN

Evansville—A horse owned by Ben Larson was struck by a car on the Evansville-Janesville cement road Saturday night and had one leg broken. The horse had broken out of its pasture and was crossing the road. The animal was an old pot. The car was damaged.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; rising temperature Wednesday in west portion.

PACT SEALED AS WHEELS OF RUHR INDUSTRIES TURN

Duesseldorf—Resumption of work today in the Constantine mine of the Krupp properties, and the re-opening of the local and state health authorities, beginning tomorrow, are given by the French as definite signs that their agreement with the Ruhr industrialists is soon to be translated into action. The French recognize that the disorganization of the railroad system hinders proper functioning of the Ruhr industries, but declare that the French government administration has thus far furnished all required transportation.

PREFERRED JAIL TO LIVING WITH WIFE

Springfield, Ill.—Franz B. Richter, 70, was sent to jail late yesterday by circuit Judge Burton for neglecting to pay his divorced wife alimony. He did not complain at the sentence.

"I'd rather be in jail," he told the court, "than live with my wife and children. They are all like wild animals. He did not complain at the sentence."

MONROE GIRL OUT OF WORK; FORGES CHECK

Monroe—Miss Frieda Maske, 23, a domestic, is held here on an attempted forgery charge. Her arrest followed a search which was instituted following her escape from the Citizens bank, where she attempted to cash a $50 check. The girl admitted that she forged the check, having become discouraged, with her failure to find employment. She is held under $1,000 bail.

Policemen Forced to Pilot Bandits' Car to Freedom After Capture

Joplin, Mo.—With a kidnapped policeman at the wheel of their motor car, four bandits who participated in the holdup of the bank of Asbury at Asbury, Mo., yesterday, drove to freedom.

The kidnapped officer was Clarence Allison, local motorcycle patrolman, who engaged the most single-handed in a field near Crestline, Kansas, only to be overpowered and made an instrument in their escape. Several hours after the robbery Allison came on the quartet on a motorcycle, and opened fire. The bandits, seeing an automobile approaching ahead, feared they were being hemmed in and abandoned their own car, taking to a field. Allison, driving an automobile, headed into the field, but his car soon became tilted. He continued the pursuit afoot and seeing the bandits disappear into a ravine scouted through a wooded section to cut them off.

The officer lay in wait and presently three of the bandits came abreast of his hiding place. Allison jumped out and, without resistance, the men surrendered.

Asks Address of "Good Safe Blower" Is Given Introduction to Police

Los Angeles—Bern B. Van Horn, 44, who says he came here from Seattle to assist in obtaining the release from San Quentin of Alberto Schemsky, self-styled Polish count, was arrested here last night after he requested a last driver to put him in touch with a good safe blower, according to police. The taxi-driver introduced him to a detective lieutenant, who is alleged to have played the role of "a good safe blower" so adroitly that enough evidence was obtained to hold Van Horn as a burglar suspect.

CONTROL SAN JOSE SCALE WITH SPRAY

Madison Park Association Purchases Power Spraying Machine for City Use.

Madison—The Madison Park and Menasha Drive association has purchased a large, six-horsepower spraying machine for use in the control of San Jose scale and other insect pests and plant disease in the city. The machine will be used for spraying trees and shrubs on private property at cost, upon request. The reason for making the purchase at this time was the recent extensive spread of the San Jose scale on the fruit trees and ornamental shrubs in the west part of the city, including a portion of the University campus. The survey of the city trees and shrubs will be under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture with E. J. Chambers, assistant state entomologist, taking immediate charge. It is estimated that at least 600 different properties are infested although on only a small percentage of these is the scale serious enough as yet to be damaging the trees materially.

During the past two years the department has been carrying on a similar campaign at Whitewater, where practically all the trees and shrubs in the city were sprayed for this cause. The insect has been established in that place longer than at Madison and in the center of the infestation the apple and plum trees were sprayed with a fine stream of kerosene. In addition to the work at Madison, similar spraying is being done at Union Grove and Rochester, in Racine county.

The San Jose scale, according to S. B. Pracker, state entomologist, is the most minute and inconspicuous of orchard pests and one of the most injurious. Wisconsin is fortunate in its scarcity in the state for its work results in the total loss of the trees attacked.

In the shape the scale is circular, about the size of the head of a pin and with a nipple-like prominence in the center. When large numbers are present they form a grayish incrustation on the bark and seriously infested trees and shrubs often appear to be covered with ashes. The trees attacked begin to die, branch by branch, although several years may elapse before they are entirely worthless.

During the winter the scale insect is half grown and its activity is reduced in late spring. The females each give birth to several hundred living young which crawl freely for a day or two but soon settle down and begin to secrete their waxy scale. Two or three generations appear each season and by fall the offspring of one overwintering scale totals several million. The young scale, during the few hours of activity will crawl for short distances along the trunk and branches of the tree or will attach themselves to the legs of birds or the hair of passing animals. In the town lots the scale is found on trees or close to a barn almost always the first to be infested for the sparrows flying from the ground to the low branches of a tree and back again will often carry the young from lot to lot.

Within an orchard the wind is probably the principal factor as it blows the minute insect from place to place. There are cases where the scale is apparently carried for several hundred feet in this way.

In the southern third of the state the scale develops with sufficient rapidity to kill trees within four or five years after they are attacked. North of Milwaukee and Madison infestations have always been found in time to destroy all the trees involved—that is before extensive spreading had taken place. Several cases have shown, however, that this insect will live and slowly spread in localities as far north as Sheboygan, Marinette and Sturgeon Bay.

Two means of controlling the spread of the pest are employed. The first is the destruction of every tree and shrub infested. The second consists of spraying in the fall or early spring with commercial lime-sulfur solution, or a miscible oil such as "Sealecide" or "Sulco spray oil". The spray must be applied while the trees are dormant, that is, without leaves or blossoms.

TEACH THEM HOW TO PUT THE HOLES IN GOOD SWISS CHEESE

Madison—Many Swiss cheesemakers from the foreign cheese manufacturing districts of southern Wisconsin are looking forward to the annual Swiss cheese short course which is held at the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Early in February will mark the opening of the course again this year.

Since its inauguration in 1920 approximately 115 cheesemakers have been in attendance. Last year the attendance figure reached a total of 23. Two weeks are to be devoted to the study of the many problems which confront the manufacturer of superior quality foreign cheese. Plans for this year's work are in the making according to J. L. Sammla, who is in charge.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming the conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the name of this advertisement.

JEFFERSON COUNTY BUDGET UP $40,000

Road Work Planned for 1923 Accounts for Big Increase.

(SPECIAL TO THIS GAZETTE)

Jefferson—Because of increased appropriations, Jefferson county will find it necessary to raise $40,000 the coming year over that in 1922 to cover the budget as approved by the county board last week. The total budget for 1923 is $684,015, as compared with $644,029 for the year now closing.

Offsetting the $15,000 reduction in state taxes is the $22,000 increase in the appropriations for highway purposes and increases to county offices and various funds. Amounts of increase, clearly indicate the various offices are: Treasurer, $3,000; auditor, $1,000; county assessor, $1,788; assessment, $600; divorce counsel, $100; court house, $1,000; elections, $4,700; registrar of deeds, $1,000; relief of blind, $200; county aid for roads, $8,422; principal on indebtedness, $5,000.

Cuts in appropriations as compared with last year were county sanatorium, $5,000; mothers pension, $2,000; relief of blind, $2,000; county aid for roads, $8,422; principal on indebtedness, $5,000.

It is estimated that receipts for the coming year will total $187,030, which makes a net amount of $496,985 to be raised. For 1922 receipts totaled $201,810.

The budget for 1924 as compared with that of the present year is as follows:

| 1923 | 1924 |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| State taxes | $100,758 |
| Special state charges | $1,702 |
| School fund | $7,112 |
| County board | $5,000 |
| County clerk | $2,000 |
| County treasurer | $2,000 |
| County court | $5,000 |
| County auditor | $1,000 |
| County jail | $1,000 |
| County physician | $500 |
| Co. Supt. of schools | $500 |
| Sanatorium | $5,000 |
| County nurse | $3,000 |
| County assessor | $2,000 |
| Assessment | $600 |
| Divorce counsel | $100 |
| Sanatorium | $5,000 |

ANNUAL MEETING "F. B." DEC. 10-12

Herbert Hoover to Make Address at Annual Convention in Chicago.

Legislation, marketing, transportation, taxation, community development and program building will be the outstanding topics that will come before the fifth annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The annual meeting will be held in Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Dec. 10, 11 and 12.

Standing upon the first day's program, as announced, is an address by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, on the subject of commerce and its relation to agriculture. On the second day of the conference, Mrs. H. W. Lawrence of the home and community committee of the A. F. B. F., will lead the discussion on agricultural economics. Professor of agricultural economics, Benjamin H. Hibbard, will speak on university, will discuss marketing, James R. Howard, formerly president of the A. F. B. F. and president of the National Transportation Institute, will present a national picture of the farmers' transportation problem. John Watson, taxation expert of the Illinois Agricultural association, will talk on a uniform taxation program.

Farm credit will be the chief subject discussed the third day of the conference. E. H. Cunningham of the Federal Reserve Board will tell of the functions of that board. W. L. Corey of the Federal Farm Loan Board will tell the farm bureau delegates how organized farmers can use intermediate credit.

The steering committee of the executive committee will meet the evening officers of the Farm Bureau in Chicago on Dec. 4. Various sub-committees will meet on Dec. 7 with departmental heads. The final general meeting of the 1923 executive committee will meet on Dec. 8.

On this same day, Dec. 8, the general marketing conference called by the co-operative marketing department of the A. F. B. F. will convene at the Sherman hotel, Chicago.

The 1924 executive committee will go into session immediately after the adjournment of the annual meeting.

CHARITIES PLAN FOR THANKSGIVING

Basket Dinners Will Be Provided for Many Needy Families.

The Salvation Army will do more in the way of Thanksgiving charity this year than in former years. Donations amounting to $15 have been given directly for this purpose within the past week, and the committee on poor relief will draw on funds raised in the drive to the extent that may be necessary to provide needy families with Thanksgiving baskets.

Junior high school girls reserves will furnish baskets for a few families whose names will be supplied by the Salvation Army.

Other charitable agencies report that their principal work along the line of basket distributions will be done at Christmas time. Anyone wishing to donate food supplies for the Thanksgiving baskets to be distributed by the Salvation Army, or knowing of families in need of such help, should report to Captain Boyle at the Army headquarters at 401 St. Leo P. Bennett is chairman of the advisory board committee in charge of this work.

A Thanksgiving dinner will be served to day nursery children Wednesday noon.

Col. Edwy White, Lake Division commander, Mrs. White and Staff Captain Johnson, Milwaukee, were here Sunday night for services in the Salvation Army hall. About 40 persons were in attendance. Officers of the advisory board conferred with Col. White in advance of hall meeting with reference to plans for the work here, including proposed repairs on the building. The regular meeting of the executive committee will be held next Monday at 4:30 p. m., when action will be taken on a number of important matters.

Milton avenue, will be Thanksgiving day guests of Dr. and Mrs. Crossan, Rockford. A dinner is to be served at the Ellis club, which they are to attend.

Edward Lathrop, Pittsburg, Kan., is visiting his sister and brother, Mrs. C. W. Carpenter and Edward Stabler, South Third street.

Harold Lawson, 1054 Cunningham street, is to spend Thanksgiving in the city. He will come home from the Green Motor school, Chicago, where he is a student.

Mrs. L. B. Leofboro and daughter, Norma, Woods apartments, Court street, motored to Pontiac, Saturday. Dr. Leofboro, who was in that vicinity for 10 days, having remained home with them Monday night.

CONSIDER THE SOURCE
 The wealthy dentist (to his son) "What! You want more money? But just think, my boy, with the cost of what suffering that money has been earned!"—Le Rire (Paris).

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to get permanent relief from constipation!

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be easily looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoons are sufficient for severe cases; with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Being cooked and krumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonsful of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked.

Kellogg's Bran is especially delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes appear on each package.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day.

You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran—remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant, all grocers.

For Thanksgiving—

Only the best of foods must grace the Thanksgiving table. Turkey, pies, vegetables, conserves, bread-stuffs—all must be the best that can be had—the most skillfully prepared. Into this supreme class JELKE GOOD LUCK Margarine naturally takes its place because of its high quality. Made fresh each day from pure ingredients perfectly blended with fresh, full-cream milk, GOOD LUCK is a splendid example of what a pure food can be. In the extra baking for Thanksgiving it plays an important part as a shortening. As a spread for bread it is the very thing to serve on the table. For a feast where every food must be perfection, there, fresh GOOD LUCK should be served.

HEART BALM SUIT AGAIN ON TRIAL

Jury Drawn for Second Trial of Westby's $75,000
Case.

Opening testimony was heard by the Rock county circuit court jury on Tuesday in the $75,000, allegation of assault and battery, against J. V. Westby, defendant, and J. E. Monroe, plaintiff. The jury was drawn and opening statements made Monday.

In a previous trial the jury was deadlocked for a verdict, necessitating a retrial of the litigation, which traces back to a series of court issues between Westby and his wife and her brother, the defendant in the present suit. The couple was separated by a divorce action in Rock county, the wife winning a separation after an uncontested suit on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Westby claims that his brother-in-law is responsible for his domestic troubles with his wife and the division of the family, consisting of seven children. The couple were married for 18 years.

Jumped from Car.
The climax of the criminal war against Westby, the alleged cause for the divorce dates back to the injury of Mrs. Westby when she jumped from a car driven by her husband. There was an argument over the purchase of a pair of shoes and it is alleged Westby slipped or struck her face and she jumped from the speeding automobile, suffering severe injuries.

Lee Mitchell, Aurora, and Harry Adams, Beloit, are appearing for the plaintiff, with M. O. Mount, A. M. Fisher, George S. Giff and Harry S. Fox for the defendant.

Jury is Chosen.
The jury accepted to try the action is as follows: Mrs. Minnie R. Fisher, David Holmes, C. S. Vogel, Elmer Holden, Thomas Monahan, H. D. Claxton, George Schaffner, E. A. Kohler, Walter Gollmar, Howard Morgan, Charles Oliver and J. D. Owen.

The case will last for several days. The balance on the jury panel were excused until next Monday by Judge George Gilman.

SUPT. HOOPER IS MADE DEFENDANT

Must Appear With County in $5,000 Damage
Suit.

J. T. Hooper, superintendent of the Wisconsin School for the Blind, was made a defendant in the $5,000 personal injury damage suit brought by Catherine Dodge Martin against Rock county as the result of an order signed Monday by Judge George Gilman in the Rock county circuit court.

Mr. Hooper was made a co-defendant in the action on the contention of District Attorney S. G. Dunlap and M. P. Richardson, who will also appear for the county, on the allegation he might be partly responsible for the accident in driving his car "at an excessive and dangerous rate of speed," falling to keep his car under proper control.

The plaintiff is suing the county for injuries suffered when the pleasure car of Mr. Hooper, in which she was riding with Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, crashed into a culvert ditch. Under the new order the county is seeking to hold Hooper to be indemnified for any damages put against the county. The case will be heard during the present term of the circuit court.

Thanksgiving dinner won't be complete without delicious cottage cheese. Order from your grocer or at our office.

69 Enrolled in Business Women's Class at Y.W.C.A.

Sixty-nine signed the constitution of the Business Women's club at the Y. W. C. A. Monday night, thereby becoming charter members. Following the supper and business session, Miss Charlotte Pritchard formed a class in handcraft, which will meet weekly until Christmas.

Assemblyman A. J. Matheson gave an interesting address on "Wisconsin Laws Affecting Women." The club will fill Thanksgiving baskets to be distributed to needy families, and will give a Christmas party for the county home at Christmas.

Miss Green, art supervisor, will conduct a noon class in gift making in the Girl Reserve room, high school, each Tuesday noon until Christmas, beginning next Tuesday. The class is open to senior high girls.

and registrations are to be made by Monday.

The Senior High Girl Reserve club has assembled a liberal donation of jellies and jams as a Thanksgiving gift for the day nursery. The Girl Reserve supper table class will meet Wednesday at 5:30 p. m.

Miss Helen Kling, community girls' work secretary will go to Chicago for Thanksgiving and a ten day vacation.

The Y. W. C. A. rooms will be closed Thanksgiving day.

ACCIDENT NEAR JEFFERSON FATAL

E. M. Fortum, Practically Unknown in Vicinity, Is Killed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Jefferson—While driving his horse and buggy on the road to Jefferson at about 5 p. m. Monday, E. M. Fortum, thought to be about 70 years of age, was struck by a truck belonging to the Rock River Telephone company of Johnson Creek, and was severely injured. He died at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Jefferson county poor farm, where he was taken following the accident. The crash occurred three miles south of this city.
Mr. Fortum, who had been fixing sewing machines in this vicinity for the past three months, is almost unknown, except by name here, and his relatives are known. Letters from Madison, several cities in California and from other cities were found in his pockets. Edward E. Schultz, city attorney, is making a search for relatives or friends.

County Shorthorn Herd to Exhibit

The Rock county Milking Shorthorn show herd will be shipped from Janesville to Chicago on Friday. It was announced by Jack A. Nebel, county livestock agent. Twenty-two head will constitute the shipment. The judging of this class will be started Monday, with Frank Brown, Oregon, placing the ribbons.

OBITUARY

John Dolan, Harvard, Ill.

John Dolan, for many years an engineer on the Chicago & North-western railroad, died Monday at his home in Harvard, Ill., after a long illness. Mr. Dolan will be remembered by many of the local railroad men, having been a former resident. He is survived by his wife, Harvard, Ill.; and one son, Edward Dolan, Chicago. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Dolan, 1112 Oakland avenue.
The funeral will be held at 10:30 Wednesday morning at the Catholic church in Harvard after which the body will be taken overland to Woodstock, Ill., for burial.

Dangerfield Funeral, Sharon.

Sharon—Funeral services for Frank Dangerfield, Sharon farmer, who was fatally injured when killed by a horse, were held at his home here Saturday, the Rev. A. J. Johnson of the Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.
Surviving Mr. Dangerfield are his wife, a son, Claire, of the Beloit, Water, Gas and Electric company, Beloit; an adopted nephew, Clifford Lives, Chicago; an adopted daughter, Vera, at home; grandson, Frank, Jr., two brothers and two sisters.
Mr. Dangerfield was a member of the Methodist church and for eight years has been a member of the official board.

TWO TREMORS ARE

FELT IN PARIS

Paris—Two violent earth tremors were felt at 5:25 and 5:30 Monday. They lasted only a few seconds and no damage was reported.

225th Fire Run — The fire department made its 225th run of the year at 5:40 p. m. Monday, called by a chimney fire at the home of William Flock, 333 Linn street. There was no loss.

LARGE HOLIDAY TRADE EXPECTED

Powl Prices Lower Due to Abundance—Turkeys 45 to 55 Cents.

Janesville grocery stores, meat markets and candy stores are looking forward to heavy trade Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving.

Reductions of from 4 to 5c have been made in the prices of most varieties of poultry during the past few days, according to meat dealers here. The abundant supply is given as the reason.

Thanksgiving prices are: Turkeys, 45 to 55c a pound; geese, 22 to 25c; ducks, 28 to 30c; and chickens, 23 to 27c.

Among the more uncommon luxuries to be found on the market now are imported Malaga grapes from Spain, which are said to be of excellent quality. Florida oranges have one in within the last two days and are also of good quality. In addition, the first of this year's crop of pineapple have been received.

The usual household vegetables are for sale, among them being tomatoes, radishes, and green onions. The demand for canned fruit is good. It is stated. New Jumbo cranberries, about three times the size of the usual variety, are also on the market, and are worth about 3c more per pound. The demand is exceptional.

JELKE'S DELICIA NUT MARGARINE

For those who use a nut margarine we wish to advise that this is a Jelke product and needs no recommendation. It is absolutely the best nut margarine on the market. Your grocer is instructed to refund your money if you are not absolutely satisfied after you take your trial package.

CONDUCT TEST OF ACOUSTICS

Members of the firm of Van Lya and De Gelleke, architects of Milwaukee, who designed the new high school building here, were in the city Tuesday to inspect the structure and investigate the matter of the acoustics of the auditorium, a matter in dispute for some time, in spite of several tests which have been made.

The test was conducted in the afternoon before members of the school board.
The architects will return Tuesday night.

Getting Plums from the Pie.
It will be said, or it may be said now, that it has been a severe blow to the idealists in government who pride themselves on the title of parlor bohemians when they have small means of livelihood and progressive statement when they hold office or want more, that the communal government of Saxony has gone to the wall and the former prime minister, Zeigler, is to be prosecuted for bribery and corruption. These revolutionists began the work of looting the state almost from the moment they took office and kept it up until ousted by the Stresemann government. No political creed will change the nature of the man. Over and over again it has been discovered that the one moustache of the proudest preachers against the corruption of officials or the general wickedness of government, has been the first to begin the looting when he came into power. The impeachment of Walton reminds one of the lamented Sulzer of New York state, also impeached. In political life he was swearing against the "interests." Yet, in office, it was proven that he was a corruptionist and was driven from the governorship. One needs something besides words and platitudes to be able to stand in the limelight or meet with the real facts in administrative life.

With Wesley as his campaign angel Hiram Johnson is sure to have some kind of mint even if the works are gummed.

Another Lincoln Story Remains a "Story."

In the last few weeks, following the anniversary of the delivery of the famous Gettysburg speech, by Abraham Lincoln, we have been told that there was scarcely any applause when it was delivered and that the masterpiece of forensic literature created scarcely a ripple at the time. That attitude of history has become generally accepted. We have been repeatedly informed that it was some time after the address was given at the dedication of the monument at Gettysburg by the president, that the beauty and perfection of the address began to be appreciated and realized. Some one, however, searching the records, has found that the audience was fully aware of the strength of the words in the address and gave to it their generous applause, and our history has to be revised.

Robert G. Harper, editor of The Sentinel and Advertiser, a weekly newspaper published in Gettysburg, was the witness whose description is believed to be one of the most authentic available. In his newspaper for Nov. 24, 1863, Mr. Harper devoted nearly the entire edition of four pages to a description of the scenes that accompanied the dedication of the national cemetery. Mr. Harper's account shows a half dozen occasions when the audience broke into applause and says "long-continued applause" marked the conclusion of the address.

Several state papers seem to feel that if the Janesville speech was a keynote the governor's plume needs a tuner.

Waterway Jealousy

Another evidence of the deep seated reasons why the eastern Atlantic port cities are opposing the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes canal is the intense city rivalry, lately accentuated by the differential rates permitted by the interstate commerce commission in order to equalize the commerce at these seaboard cities. It is charged that the action was taken to lessen the importance of New York as a port, since that metropolis has the greatest volume of foreign trade. Hence an immediate cry from New York that the city was being discriminated against and the consolidation of railroad systems into groups, now proposed, would add further to the diversion of business.

Here we have the same reasons advanced by New York as were given in opposition to any plan by which the seaboard business of the middle west would be diverted from New York to other ports—perhaps those of Canada. This was a mere subterfuge however since the plan contemplates a waterway that would permit ships to clear from ports far up the Great Lakes and not from any Canadian port. New York is jealous of her position as the chief export and import city of the nation. She is as jealous of Baltimore and Philadelphia as of the St. Lawrence plan and at the present time is carrying on a serious opposition to any consolidation of the Jersey Central, Baltimore and Ohio and the Reading road which would add to the freight business of either of the two ports. It is an interesting warfare but will not seriously obstruct the Great Lakes waterway project which is still very much alive.

Ancient history in the Gazette's "Twenty Years Ago": "Janesville won from Beloit, 6-5." Do you remember that?

Two Extremes.

And yet another! James Watson, senator from Indiana, has thrown himself upon the bosom of his country and with loud cries for victory and Indiana first, is in the presidential race. He will get no farther south than Posey county, on the Ohio, and no farther north than Crown Point, where Chicago goes to get married. Within the Hoosier state he will be confined and his battleground will be that of New and Beveridge. What Johnson is to one extreme, Watson is to the other. Watson is of the old stock of politician, clever, smart, quick, regular always, and like the Johnsons in the democratic party, lives in the an-

THE ELIXIR OF LIFE
By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.
Washington.—Dr. Benjamin Breakstone, Chicago, has recently announced the discovery of a modern elixir of life. Dr. Breakstone does not describe his contribution to medical science in such a poetical way; he calls it, in fact, a thyroid gland treatment. But he has undertaken the task of adding a two more feet to the stature of "Little Lillian," a dwarf 21 years old and only 36 inches tall. And if the doctor can do that, his treatment will constitute a more potent elixir than that sought by the alchemists for many hundreds of years.
Dr. Charles Mayo, famous surgeon, told the interstate assembly of physicians that his opinion of such glandular treatments as that proposed by the Chicago man was "mostly humorous." He further said that if the newspaper would give as much space to constructive medical articles as they do to "frank" performances, their readers would find much more profit in reading them.
The smaller and more obscure a gland is, the more important it seems to be to the body. Without thyroid glands we should all be 2 or 3 feet tall, instead of 5 or 6. Yet the glands themselves are tiny, oval-shaped organs, concealed in the tissues of the neck. They belong to the class of glands called "ductless." This simply means that no tube or duct has been developed by the body to carry the secretion manufactured by the glands into the blood stream. There they remain, in the neck, like little, sealed-up sacks, from which a tiny bit of liquid is constantly oozing into the body.
There are but two thyroid glands, proper, but there are a large number of reserve, or secondary thyroids, called parathyroids. These may grow along the tube that leads from the mouth to the stomach as far down as the heart. The secondary thyroid glands are particularly important for those animals which do not eat meat, but are not of much use to carnivorous animals.
As far back as 1856 it was proved that if the thyroid glands were removed from a dog, the animal died in one to four weeks. The dog's food does not seem to nourish him after his thyroid glands have been taken out. He becomes emaciated and loses all interest in life. Finally his muscles and limbs begin to tremble, convulsions follow and death ensues. All these symptoms are found, also, in human beings whose thyroid glands have been injured by disease.
Children who show any tendency to be stunted in growth of mind or body should be examined at once, to see whether their thyroid glands are in proper condition. Trying to force a youngster to learn his lessons or eat his food in the right way is useless, if his body is not getting enough thyroid secretion. Modern medical men have learned that nature's way is best, and if a child's thyroid glands are being stopped or interfered with by disease, it is an easy matter to supply tablets, or other forms of thyroid extract which supply the need. If this is not done, the child may be stunted for life. What is even worse, his mind may not develop beyond the mental age of seven or eight years, merely because there is not enough thyroid extract in his body.
In Europe, during the Middle Ages, every king and great lord had his fool, or court jester. These fools were, in reality, not so much persons of both sexes whose thyroid glands had not worked properly when they were children. The fools with deformed bodies were especially prized. Queen Anne of England had a female fool whose wardrobe was most elaborate. It being the queen's delight to dress her in imitation of a lady of the court. The childish remarks of this little person of the most solemn occasions were a never-ending source of amusement to the queen and her supporters. Now, of course, it is known that this pitiful dwarfed jester was a cretin, or mentally deficient woman. If she had lived today, she might have had thyroid tablets when a child, and her mind, as a result, might have proved far keener than Queen Anne's.

In Germany, in recent years, a whole race of these dwarfs lived together for eight or ten generations, in a sort of Lilliputian village. Barnum found them and brought several of them to this country to amuse the patrons of his circus. The probable cause of a whole race of cretins springing up is that two people with deficient thyroid glands married and had children. The children, in turn, mated with similar dwarfs, and so the group gradually increased by intermarriage.
No method has been found to cure cretinism, once it has started its victim in childhood. Thousands of children are saved untold suffering today, by supplying of additional thyroid extract, when the deficiency in their glands is discovered in time. But to take a mature dwarf, or cretin, and make him start growing all over again is another matter. That is what Dr. Breakstone, Chicago, claims he can do. And it is because the thyroid glands of "Little Lillian," Dr. Breakstone's patient, are probably atrophied that Dr. Mayo would call it a freak performance if they can be revived.
A new gland will, in fact, have to be grown if nature herself is to be called upon to increase Lillian's height by two feet. Thyroid tablets are not powerful enough to cause growth once a human being has reached maturity. Pieces of thyroid gland, taken from animals, have sometimes been transplanted under the skin of a human being, with good results, but this has never gone so far as to cure a mind or body already dwarfed.
It is also interesting to note the extent of the problem of making "Little Lillian" grow. Not only is the size of the bones or skeleton of a cretin limited by his lack of thyroid secretion, but every other part of his body and brain is seriously affected. The number of red cells or corpuscles in the blood is diminished, and their chemical make-up changed. The skin is thickened, and usually is yellow, wrinkled, and looks too large for the body. The head is large, producing certain abnormal effects on the brain, and the nose is broad and flat. The lips are apt to be thick and swollen, and the tongue is very large. The legs are almost invariably short and more or less bowed. The mind is always considerably below normal, and cretins are often deaf.
All these distortions of body and mind must be cured, as well as the physical size increased, by the proposed thyroid treatment. To the outsider, it is almost incredible that all these very disagreeable changes can result from the drying up of a single pair of tiny glands in the neck. But that much we know to be true.

The Chicago Tribune is again printing its snivel that prohibition was put over in this country without the consent of the service men. That is so thoroughly a scotch tale that only the Tribune would print it again. Dealing in superlatives in ego the Chicago paper perhaps may be not only what it calls itself, "The World's Greatest Newspaper," but the Greatest Newspaper Liar.

JUST FOLKS

SUCCESS.
If you're afraid of a set-back or two,
If you're afraid of a jolt or a fall,
If hard work is something which terrifies you,
Then stay where you are.
If more than a chance for success you desire,
If you're afraid of a blow and its smart,
If you're not plucky for the fight when you tire,
You'd better not start.
If you can't trudge through the rain and the snow,
Forgoing the calm of an easier task,
If always the comfort of life you must know,
For glory don't ask.
If you can't stand to the battle alone,
Can't cling to your purpose through thick and thin,
If pleasure means more than the goal you would own,
You've no chance to win.
If you've the will to be somebody here,
If danger your spirit rebounds from a blow,
If you will work for it year after year,
Success you may know.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT
By ROY K. MOULTON.
It's a great game, lads, this love at first sight, where has never been one like it outside of the Grand Monte.
Rollo climbs to the upper deck of an excursion boat and he no sooner takes one look at Clarice, whom he had never seen before, than his eyes blur, his heart ships and he is a wreck. He looks at her, and she looks at him, and the steward introduces him to Clarice, and after they have talked about the weather for one minute and four seconds, Clarice says she is chilly and Rollo asks her if she doesn't need something to warm her up. She says she believes she does, and he, being a good right, pen-pushing man around here, and they begin talking about how much it would cost to furnish a three-room kitchenette. By the time they get back to the dock Rollo's right arm is paralyzed into a permanent curve, and he has to write his waybills next day with his left hand.
Two days later they marry and settle down, and Rollo spends the rest of his life trying to settle up. If Clarice doesn't sleep with a chore, Rollo doesn't sleep with a chore. On a boat instead of six months, they may stick together until Rollo throws Clarice out of a third-story window or Clarice carresses Rollo lovingly on the left ear with a bag of TNT.
Love at first sight is wonderful, of course, but it doesn't cost a cent to take a second look.
It may be treason, but our motto is "Save America First."

Who's Who Today
LORD ROBERT CECIL.
Considerable political significance is attached to the elevation to the peerage of Lord Robert Cecil, son of the Marquis of Salisbury and distinguished British statesman.
Premier Baldwin's opponents see in the move a clear indication of the difficulties faced by the administration.
For Lord Robert Cecil is a stock market speculator and already has decided not to enter the House of Commons. As a peer he can remain a member of the administration without being a member of the House of Lords.
His friends say, however, that the step is taken to prevent his retirement from public life which would be forced by ill health should he be called upon to go through an election campaign.
Lord Robert is one of five up-and-coming careers while the remaining members close the military life.
He was educated at Eton and at University College, Oxford, and then called to the bar in 1887. He entered parliament in 1893 and until 1910 served as a conservative member of the House of Commons. He was made parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs and then became assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, and later minister of blockade in the Lloyd George coalition.
He is known in the U. S. having visited this country officially and unofficially. He married a daughter of the second earl of Durham in 1889.

STILL MORE SEBORRHEA
I feel highly gratified with the successful outcome of our latest talk about seborrhea, for we managed not only to abolish the myth of "pores," but also to show that seborrhea is not a disease, but a condition. It is a condition which usually gets in a good recipe for enlarged pores.
Today we have still more seborrhea. You will remember that the state of the skin is a very important factor in the health of the body. Seborrhea is an excessive formation of sebum or skin oil by the sebaceous glands of the skin. This seborrhea is an exceedingly prevalent condition, which is advanced to amounts to various forms of dandruff of the scalp and eyebrows—it is a common forerunner of acne—the blackheads and pimples which many boys and girls so needlessly worry about. Seborrhea is also responsible for the deplorable condition of the calvarium among more intelligent men of noble character. It is a condition which is not cured until it is too late, but I want to do all I can to warn other men in this class of the fate in store for them. Where too many of us women show this condition in the face of the face, the brilliancy of the complexion is due, not so much to stretching of the scalp by the bulging gray matter as it is to a free flow of oil.
The annoying oiliness or greasiness of the hair which many young women complain of is seborrhea.
Youth is very oily. The school boy's greasy shining morning hair is a faint beginning of seborrhea, and the girl powdering her nose is struggling vainly to conceal the first touch of the seborrheal condition. That seborrhea is a condition of the skin, and not a disease, is a fact which should be known by all. It is a condition of the skin, and not a disease, is a fact which should be known by all. It is a condition of the skin, and not a disease, is a fact which should be known by all.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
What are the causes and effects of seborrhea in the scalp? Please submit a remedy for this. (S. E.)
Answer.—Seborrhea is found in various diseases, but is found alone, but in various fevers and general disorders. Of course there is no definite answer possible for any of your questions.
Something good for sweaty feet. (C. N.)
Answer.—Sponge the soles and the spaces between the toes with a solution of half an ounce of aluminum chloride in three ounces of distilled water, each alternate day, for five days, allowing the feet to dry before putting on stockings. Then discontinue the treatment until it again becomes necessary.
What is inflammation of the lungs? (J. N.)
Answer.—Pneumonia is an acute inflammation of the lungs; tuberculosis is a chronic inflammation of the lungs, and is a disease which is not cured by inflammation of the lungs.

Q. Who has the authority to determine the color of the automobile license plates? (H. A. L.)
A. The motor vehicle commission of the individual states determine the color of the automobile number plates.
Q. Was the Brazilian exposition well attended? (G. A. M.)
A. The Centenary exposition opened on Sept. 7, 1922, and closed July 2, 1923. The number of visitors was 2,626,102.
Q. How many feet of lumber are made into excelsior yearly? (J. A. F.)
A. The forest service says that about 100,000,000 feet of raw material are used annually in this country in the manufacture of excelsior.
Q. Why are quiet, happy days referred to as halcyon days? (E. S. P.)
A. Halcyon days is a name given by the ancients to the seven days which follow the shortest day of the year. The reference is to a bird, the kingfisher, which was breeding, there always prevailed calm at sea. From this the phrase "halcyon days" has come to signify times of peace and tranquillity.
Q. Why is it that fish swim upstream? (J. C. W.)
A. The bureau of fisheries says that generally speaking fish swim upstream as it is easier to get food when heading against the current.
Q. Please give a description of the Altar of Heaven in China. (M. Z. A.)
A. The altar of Heaven in Peking, China, consists of a triple circular marble terrace, 210 feet wide at the base, 15 in the middle, and 90 feet at the top. The uppermost surface is paved with blocks of the same marble, forming nine concentric circles. The innermost consisting of nine blocks, and that on the outside of 81 blocks. During the time of the emperor in China, the emperor was accustomed to kneel on the central stone when offering prayers. This central stone is a perfect circle. The Altar was burned in 1859, but rebuilt. The Altar was used for the pillars and blue porcelain tiles for the roof.
Q. What are Petaluma eggs? (A. P.)
A. Petaluma eggs are carefully washed and packed eggs from a certain part of California. Petaluma does not refer to a breed of fowl, but is merely a trade name adopted by the association for advertising purposes.
Q. What religious body left Canada in the last five years, sacrificing homes and going to Mexico to colonize? (E. B. M.)
A. During the years 1921-22 there was a great exodus of Mennonites from Canada into the United States, Mexico, and Brazil. The movement originated in the military service of Canada, the Mennonites being entirely opposed to war and to participation in any form of military activity.

Every Parent Should Know
What symptoms are evidence of the existence of bodily ailments in their children?
What to do to prevent their occurrence?
How to proceed in securing their cure or correction when they do occur?
These conditions in children should be recognized and treated before they become chronic. The results can be secured and before serious damage has been done. With this end in view, the National American School Hygiene Association prepared an excellent booklet on the subject. Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any of our readers entirely free. Simply fill out and mail the coupon below enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Be sure to write your name and address clearly.

GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE.
An old gentleman boarded a train in New York city, with the intention of going to Florida for the winter. When he heard the trainman announce, "All out for Indianapolis," he looked at the trainman and said, "All out for St. Louis," and he began to weep, but when he heard, "All out for Kansas City," he began to shriek. A kind-hearted woman had been not caring the increasing grief of the old gentleman, and when he seemed particularly distressed at the announcement, "All out for Denver," she checked it time for someone to take an interest.
Stopping over to the old man, she asked: "What the trouble?"
The old man looked at her in despair. "I'm on the wrong train for four days, already, ma'am, and still a-weeping!"—Judge.

Watchmaking a Profitable Business for Men of Skill and Ambition
IN the Watchmaking business, there is a call for men of ability, skill, dependability and resourcefulness. Everywhere, there are positions waiting for trained men. Hundreds of young men, who by nature are specially adapted to the exacting requirements of this trade, who are wasting time in minor "jobs" could qualify and be well paid, as watchmakers—if they only knew the facts.
This is the day of trained specialists. The man with a trade has the advantage and this is particularly true of skill, scientifically trained watchmakers.
The Elgin Watchmakers College cannot enroll as students all applicants who think they can qualify—but it does train and prepare ambitious, serious students for the watchmaking business, and for success in this fascinating, well-paying trade.
Elgin Experts Train Men for This Work
Elgin instructors are developing new classes of watchmakers every year. YOU can benefit by the same practical course of training. The only essential requirement for admission is normal eyesight, a good common school education, and some natural skill in the handling of small tools.
Men possessing of these qualifications who are willing to study diligently, faithfully and with an honest determination, can be graduated from this College as Master Watchmakers.
If you are interested in fine mechanical work, or in a good quality of life, or in a better course of instruction, Elgin is the ideal place to live. The Elgin Watchmakers College is a good school. Write today for details. Our new book, "Watchmaking as a Vocation" gives all the facts. Your copy sent free upon request. Address—Register—

She was addressing me exclusively. "I felt that you were working against me—against Mr. Edgar. I mean, you were working against him and my husband grew ill. I no longer knew myself. That Mr. Edgar could do anything wrong—that he could deceive himself or Miss Orpha or the uncle who died on him you could not have made me believe in those days. It was you, you who did all the harm, and Mr. Bartholomew, who was my friend, who was my victim. So I reasoned as I saw how things went and how you were given an equal chance with Mr. Edgar to sit with him and cure for him, nights as well as days.

"Then the lawyers came, and though I am not over bright, it was plain enough to me that something very wrong was being done, and I got all worked up and listened and watched to see if I could get hold of the truth; and I saw and heard enough to convince me that Mr. Edgar's chance of fortune and happiness with Miss Orpha needed being, and that if worst came to worst, I must be ready to do my part in saving him from losing the property destined for him since he was a little child.

"I said nothing of this to any one, but I hardly slept in my eagerness to know whether the two documents your uncle kept in the little drawer near his head were really two different wills. I had never heard of anybody keeping two wills ready to hand before. But Mr. Bartholomew was not like other men and you could not judge him by what other men do. That I was right in thinking that these two documents were really two wills I soon felt quite sure from his actions. He was so different that he did not handle them. I often found him poring over them, and he always seemed displeased if I approached him too closely at these times. Then again he would simply

Dinner Stories

It was bedtime for four-year-old Jack, says Judge, but the little fellow wanted to stay up later. His aunt, who tipped the scales at nearly 250 pounds, said: "Why, Jack, think of me—I am ever so much older than you, and I go to bed with the chickens."

Jack looked at her great size, and remarked anxiously: "Well, I don't see how you ever get upon the roof!"

One night at a theater some scenery fell and the fall of burning material alarmed the audience, reports Chicago Daily News. A panic seemed imminent, when a comedian appeared in a stage, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, don't compose yourselves. There is no danger. The audience did not seem reassured.

"Ladies and gentlemen," continued the comedian, rising to the occasion, "confound it all; do you think if there was any danger I'd be here?" The panic collapsed.

The woman orator stood upon her platform and looked over the sea of faces, states Curtains. "Where would man be today were it not for woman?" she inquired. She paused a moment.

"Again I repeat," she said, "where would man be today were it not for woman?"

"In the Garden of Eden," answered a male voice from the rear.

THE BEAUTY OF HEALTH

Newspapers and magazines are devoting columns to magic or over-night beauties. This is the beauty of health that is far more attractive to men than mere regularity of features or a made-up complexion. Health should be the first essential of women who want to win and hold admiration, respect and love. The beauty of health is indicated by dark circles under the eyes, a sallow complexion, nervousness, irritability and melancholia. Women should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, the standard remedy for women's ills, which has been proven to help 98 out of every 100 women who try it.

FOR THE MOTHER

This Advice by a Mother Is Most Vital to You.

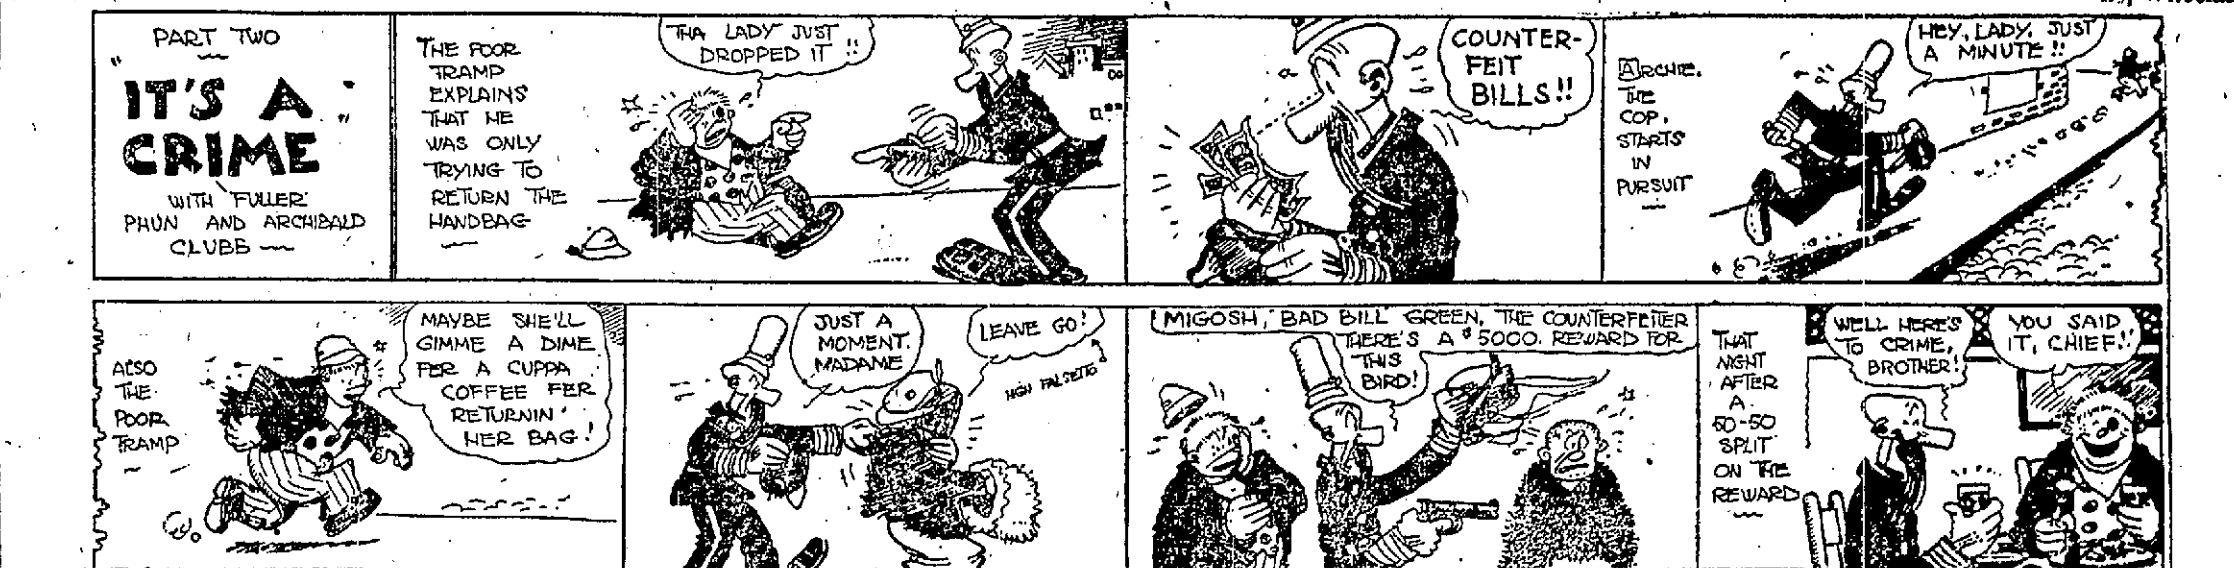

La Crosse, Wis.—"I recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription very highly as a tonic and builder for the prospective mother. It was of great benefit to me. I am also particularly enthusiastic concerning Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which I consider a household standby. They are fine for regulating the stomach and liver and do not grip or cause any other distress. I have taken the Pellets five years whenever in need of a laxative or liver regulator, and find them 'excellent.' Mrs. Bertha Neiland, 1214 Kane St., La Crosse, Wis.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

"Mrs. P. H. writes: 'Does a baby get fresh air to breathe if he is in bed with only one window open at the top and bottom?'"

Answer: "This is an excellent way to ventilate, and undoubtedly the baby gets fresh air with the windows open in this manner."

"Mrs. T. E. W. writes: 'How much sleep should a 10-month-old baby get? My little girl sleeps all night through, from 5 in the afternoon to 6 in the morning, but will never sleep but one hour during the day, after the 10 o'clock bottle.'"

Answer: "She has a 10 o'clock bottle at night."

"I should say a baby of that age usually should get about 16 hours of sleep, but as your baby is doing so well and being happy and contented with only 11, I should not worry about it for a minute. She is getting a much better night's rest than most children get, her age at least one hour's more rest."

The 10 o'clock feeding is usually discontinued by at least the sixth month. If the baby is only being fed every four hours it is sometimes advisable for the sake of the extra nourishment to continue it longer. She is old enough to go without it now, and something extra to each bottle and make it up that way."

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 16 years old and would like to know if I am too young to have a boy call on me twice a week. My mother has no objection, but thought I should ask your consent.

Answer: "I would like to give a boy a Christmas present and would like to suggest a few articles."

DOLLY DIMPLES. You are very young to have boy friends, but if your mother likes the boy who calls, I can see no harm in your having company. Sometimes a girl is kept away from boys so long that the time she is considered old enough by her parents to have call is she is no longer sought by young men.

I would be better than to send the boy a Christmas greeting. You might, however, give him a book.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 16 years of age. I am in love with a boy about two years my senior. I see him nearly every week. He seems to care a great deal for me, but sometimes he seems indifferent. How can I tell if he loves me? GINGER.

Answer: "Love is a very uncertain matter. There is really no way of knowing whether the boy merely enjoys your company or is in love with you unless he tells you the state of his affections. At your age it would be much better to look for loyal friendships rather than love affairs."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please advise me what you think of first cousins marrying. I am engaged to a boy and he wants me to marry him Christmas. I love him dearly and I know that he loves me more than anyone in the world. I am afraid to marry him, but I am sure that first cousins could not marry. Is that true?

Answer: "I already have our home built and everything fixed for us to begin housekeeping. He says that he will never be happy without me, and I know that I will never be without him. We are both old enough to take care of ourselves. If your father and mother are only half sister and brother, is that as bad as if we were first cousins?"

G. L. S. "The fact that your mother and your father's father were only half brother and sister would certainly en-

The greatest force in the world is the will to serve. When it is born of enthusiasm it is dynamic in its intensity.

When it emanates from a sense of duty it endures.

It is the will to serve that puts imagination into business.

It is the will to serve, persisted in over a long period of years, that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) one of America's outstanding successes.

It is this same will to serve that has encouraged this Company to foster industrial husbandry not alone in its own business but elsewhere.

If the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) had been content to take from crude petroleum, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils only, this Company would have been a large manufacturing concern, but it never could have achieved its present position as an institution in the industrial world.

Without disturbing those three essential major products, this Company set about utilizing waste. It retrieved products of great benefit to the medical profession—products that lighten the burden of the housewife—products that make night travel safe—products that make good roads—and products that serve mankind in a score of ways.

All these products were developed by the will to serve.

The personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is obsessed with the will to serve and led by men with imagination—imagination reduced to terms of practical business.

It is the will to serve that inspired the Manufacturing Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to develop methods for increasing the yield of gasoline from a given quantity of crude petroleum.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to lease to competitive concerns the right to use such important manufacturing processes.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to create and maintain facilities so comprehensive as to serve a five-gallon customer as carefully, as accurately, and as promptly as it serves a thousand-gallon buyer.

It is the will to serve, expressed in terms of action, that has earned for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the confidence, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Special Programs in Grades and High School Wednesday.

Janeville schools are planning to observe Thanksgiving with programs, Wednesday.

Children of the Garfield school will present a play, "The First Thanksgiving," written by themselves. Each grade will have its own program. There will be music.

At Douglas school, a combined program will be given at 2:30, in which each grade will have a part. The origin of Thanksgiving will be dramatized.

A play written by pupils of the fifth grade, "The Pilgrims," will be given at Grant school. The first grade will give songs, recitations and original folk games, and the second grade stories of Thanksgiving, songs, and games.

Junior High Playlet
The Junior high school girls' club will present a musical playlet, "The Soul of Pecos," at the Junior assembly period at the high school at 2:30 a. m., Wednesday. Thirty will take part.

Work by the children, including stories, will be featured in the six grades at the Adams school. Each grade will have its own program. Patriotic songs, poems and songs learned during the fall will be given. Some grades are combining, but most are giving separate programs.

Special Drawings
Songs learned and art work done during the fall will comprise the program at Jefferson school.

A playlet, "The First Thanksgiving Day," by pupils of the third grade, will be featured by the four grades at the Webster school. National songs are also to be given.

Art work illustrating the holiday has been done in all public schools as a part of the regular instruction. Following the programs, schools will be closed until the following Monday according to the usual custom here.

GRIMM'S ORDERS BLOW TO LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS

bottled goods, branded "Old Taylor." He pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge John Clark in the district court and paid a fine of $1,000 and costs. And the booze was ordered destroyed.

The Janeville defendants were told out of the court room either to pay their fines or be committed to the county jail, one of those drawing the maximum sentence was heard to say, "Who in— said Grimm was easy."

Fined the Limit.
Before pronouncing sentence the court issued the following statement: "I have delayed imposing punishment upon you in order that I might gather information in regard to the circumstances attending the commission of your several offenses."

"Pronouncing sentence is not ordinarily a pleasant duty for the judge; and in every case it calls for the exercise of wisdom and sound judgment. It is just as easy to err on the side of leniency as it is on the side of severity, and vice versa; and only colossal egotism can prompt a human judge to claim infallibility in that regard. The character of the convict, his conduct in the past, his present attitude of contrition or defiance are inseparable from the consideration of the character of the offense itself and the range of penalty prescribed by law from which the judge is directed to choose the one best adapted to do justice as well as bring about the best results to society. Crime always has its seat in the mental state of the individual, and the overt act is the expression of the mental condition, for which reason the degrees of guilt are as varied as human character itself."

"When the guilt of an accused is ascertained by means of a trial, the judge is usually sufficiently informed to impose the proper sentence; but when guilt is established without trial, by a plea of guilty, it is often difficult to know just what penalty the case. A seemingly light sentence may have the effect of a crushing blow to one offender, and to his innocent helpless dependents, while in the case of another, guilty or otherwise, the identical offense the severest penalty provided by law may be utterly inadequate to punish or impress him. When there is no trial and guilt is admitted the only thing the judge can do is to rely on the prosecuting officials and other reliable sources such information as he may be able to, and then select such punishment from the range of penalties fixed by law as adequate to his most likely to accomplish the purpose of any sentence, namely, to punish without prejudice or passion, to act as a warning and deterrent to others, to enhance general respect for the law, and last but not least, to bring about if possible some measure of reform in the offender."

"With regard to you three men now before the bar of justice I have sought and obtained such information as I was able to find. You were each charged with but one offense, that of unlawfully having intoxicating liquor in your possession, and you have all pleaded guilty."

"You, Farrell, have a good record as an honest and generally law-abiding man. This here posted men of your home city inform me that with the single exception of once in a while getting drunk when alone to secure liquor your record is fine, and that you are a law-abiding citizen. Under the circumstances I would feel inclined to let you off with the minimum fine were it not for the fact that the quantity of alcohol found in your possession strongly indicates that it was not all intended for your own use, but that you were storing it for some other person who intended to peddle it. The minimum fine is five dollars, and you are sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs, and to be imprisoned until such fine and costs are paid—not, however, exceeding four months."

"You, Meyer, have not a good reputation. I am very reliably informed that you have been unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor for some considerable time and have profited thereby."

"Whether there is any truth in the rumor that you are still at it and that you are now selling such rotten stuff for that reason, I do not know; but I shall sentence you on mere rumor or because your customers are dissatisfied with the quality of your poison."

"The size of your sentence is determined by the fact that you have been for a long time profiting by violating the laws of the state and the laws of constitution of the United States. You are sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000, and the costs of the prosecution, and to be imprisoned until such fine and costs are paid—not, however, exceeding six months. The owners of the building you occupy may also take notice that they will henceforth be held responsible with knowledge of similar violations of which you may be guilty, and that future fines will be made liens upon the premises."

"To you, Carroll, I have this to say: The whole republican organization scheme is simply uniting with the democrats. The republican majority in the legislature and the support of the LaFollette group is needed to carry on republican party machinery maneuvers throughout the session."

Senator LaFollette is a sick man. He hasn't been very much in evidence during the last three weeks that he has been in Washington. Some of his close friends say he has an attack of the grippe. Others think that his illness is purely nervous. Anyway, it will probably become apparent whether he is in physical condition for the battle in the next congress when the senate convenes. Mr. LaFollette is usually in his seat on such occasions.

The presidency of the senate carries with it an increase in salary of $1,000 above the regular salary of $7,500 received by senators. Friends of Senator Cummins think "the old man," as they affectionately call him, should have the added honor and have spent most of his life in public service, not only in Washington but in his home state of Iowa where he gave his energies to the reconstruction in legislative battles which are still the talk of the middle west.

Democrats Getting Ready
While these situations are developing inside the republican party, the democrats are girding their loins for a fight that may rival in interest their arduous battles in the middle of the 19th century when in 1819 the democrats took advantage of the misplays of their opponents, who were divided, and managed to appear be-

Congress Leadership Is in Balance; All Factions Marshal Forces.

Washington—One week before the opening of congress finds the national capital in a state of nervousness over the various situations that are developing and likely to develop.

First, there's a fight in the house over the leadership between the republican and democratic parties. The republican party is in the position of wanting to aid in the reduction of the tariff, but it doesn't commit the democrats to specific aid against the radicals, though when the showdown comes enough democratic votes probably will be mustered to save the situation from becoming hopelessly deadlocked. The atmosphere is, nevertheless, one of great uncertainty and doubt as to the day of the session approaches.

Second, the departure of Vice President Coolidge in the desk of president-elect of the senate and senator Cummins of Iowa, who was president pro tem during the last session when Mr. Coolidge was absent, is in line for the position.

LaFollette in Line
But if he takes it, Mr. Cummins may be forced to relinquish the chairmanship of the senate and the interstate commerce, and under the seniority rule, Robert M. LaFollette, senior senator from Wisconsin, having served the longest on that committee, becomes entitled to the chairmanship. Out of the interstate commerce bill relating to railroads and transportation matters, Mr. LaFollette would have a great deal of influence in shaping the government's railroad policy—or at least sufficient power to keep the railroads on the anxious seat with respect to the chairmanship of the committee, which permits them to make a 25 per cent return on their investment.

Mr. Cummins wants to be president pro tem. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge favors him for the position, and doesn't see any reason why Mr. Cummins couldn't retain the committee chairmanship too. That would be all right if Mr. LaFollette and his friends consented, but they want to run things in the interstate commerce committee and if they do not get what they want they can overthrow the whole republican organization scheme by simply uniting with the democrats. The republican majority in the legislature and the support of the LaFollette group is needed to carry on republican party machinery maneuvers throughout the session."

Stamps Due Jan. 1—War savings stamps, which will become due on Jan. 1, may be exchanged for treasury saving certificates, according to the new treasury bulletin sent out by the treasury department. Notices of the fact are being sent out through the postoffice here. It is expected that about $5,000 will be distributed in this city.

Monument Placed—A beautiful monument, constructed of blue and white granite from Barre, Vt., has just been completed and erected on the Master's Hill, Olivet cemetery here by the Master's Sons of Chicago.

At Madison Meeting—David Reese, Janeville, attended the 10th anniversary rally of Madison Moore at Madison, Monday night, and heard talks by Judge J. Willis Pearson, New Orleans, past supreme dictator; Charles Whelan and Norton Williams, Madison; James Chubb and W. H. Tammhauser, Milwaukee. Forty-five candidates were initiated.

ROCK PRAIRIE
Rock Prairie—Thanksgiving services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Thursday at U. P. church. The juniors will meet Saturday with Mrs. Willard Austin. Mr. and Mrs. John Melay, Miss Catherine Melay and Robert Melay attended at the ball game at Beloit Saturday—Miss Lilla Lamb, Janeville, spent the weekend with her cousin, Miss Marion Lamb.

VIADUCT PAVING JOB COST $1,100

Systematic Record of Costs in Street Work Is New Feature.

Something new in street department circles is being introduced under the city manager's administration in the form of a complete cost accounting system to keep track of the expenditures on every municipal job, no matter how small. From now on there will be records to show where all the street department money is being spent, the system to be kept by Assistant Engineer Joseph Lustig, who is directing and supervising street work.

Through the cost system, Mr. Lustig has been able to inform the city manager that the exact cost of completing the paving under the North Franklin street viaduct was $1,111.23. Of this figure, the two railroads will pay $500 each.

The cost of this job is distributed as follows:

|-----------------|------------|
| Labor | 637.25 |
| Asphalt | 168.65 |
| Sand and gravel | 113.95 |
| Sement | 104.00 |
| Gravel | 106.20 |
| Coal | 8.08 |
| Total | $1,111.23 |

In explanation of the report the assistant city engineer says this is the first showing in that the original estimate for the job was only 381 square yards. This was increased, however, by 95 square yards in the widening of the street, by relaying 40 square yards of wearing surface, relocating 33 lineal feet of curb and gutter and building 55 lineal feet of sidewalk. The total cost does not include any allowance for supervision.

Cost figures were also kept on the wrecking and rebuilding of the old-fashioned drinking fountains in the Fourth ward park and on North Washington street. It cost $188 for the park job, of which $97 went for wrecking the old fountain, while the other required an expenditure of $91.

The concrete driveway into the city's garage was widened at a cost of 14 cents per square foot.

It is pointed out that all this work has been done by regular city department workers without additional help, and the amount charged for labor would have been expended anyway as part of the regular payroll.

Complaint Blanks Issued—All city departments are now provided with small blanks on which a record of every complaint is kept and on which there is also room for signature and explanation as to what was done to relieve the difficulty.

LIMA
Lima—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Griffith, West Allis, attended church services here Sunday and took dinner, with Mrs. Ida Marguardt—Ed. Laughoff shipped cattle and hogs Monday. Miss E. Jacobs and M. Holbrook, Chicago, spent Friday with relatives here—Henry Spence is ill—The Laughoff children have a Shetland pony—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kutz, Janeville, visited the former's sister, Mrs. C. A. CHARITY FIGURES ARE MADE PUBLIC

Wisconsin Work for Women and Children Shown in Statistics.

Washington—The Department of Commerce today announced Wisconsin charity statistics for homes for either adults or children, or both, child placing agencies, day nurseries and homes for wayward women and girls and unmarried or destitute mothers giving in each case the number reported as under care on February 1, 1923.

The protective work of humane societies and the child placing of detention homes and of juvenile delinquent institutions is not included. A total of 32 homes for adults has 2,453 inmates, of whom 1,729 were male, 806 female, and 24 of whom the sex was not reported.

Thirty homes for children had 2,746 dependent or neglected children under care of whom 1,467 were male, 1,278 female. In addition to which there were 444 in their own homes, 836 in free family homes, 9 of whom were delinquent, and 32 elsewhere, of whom 70 were male, 177 female, and 24 of whom the sex was not reported.

Five child placing agencies placed 27 children in receiving or temporary homes, of whom 20 were male and 17 female; 250 in free family homes, of whom 51 were male, 26 female and 182 for whom the sex was not reported; 167 in boarding homes, of whom 84 were male, 77 female and 6 for whom the sex was not reported.

Five day nurseries had 140 under care of whom 64 were male and 66 female.

There were five homes for wayward women or girls and unmarried or destitute mothers with their children. There were 223 such adult female inmates, with 107 children, of whom 19 were male and 88 female.

Tribly is the story of a beautiful artist's model who was particularly noted (not for the smallness) but for the perfect symmetry of her feet.

Mlle. Lafayette is a constant wearer of Walk-Over shoes, having first become acquainted with their desirability through a visit to the Walk-Over shop at 21 Rue de l'italienne in Paris. She has, from their use learned the undeniable satisfaction to be found in modish footwear that not only beautifies but preserves the natural grace and symmetry of the feet.

"Tribly" models as well as numerous other patterns are on display in the windows of the Golden Eagle.

Wisconsin Power, Light &
Heat Service the Controlling
"Rheostat" of Industry

In every great industrial plant, after the main switch has been thrown in, the "rheostat" or controller is used to start the electric motors and gradually cause them to "pick up" the load smoothly. The elastic nature of Rheostat control is indeed a most important feature of electrical installation—without which the application of electricity to many of its various uses would be almost impracticable.

A similar position is occupied in the industrial world by the service of the Wisconsin Power, Light & Heat Co. As business of all kinds increases and manufacturing moves ahead, more power, light and transportation are needed. Thus, the service of the Wisconsin Power, Light & Heat Co. becomes indeed the "rheostat of industry" and as such responds immediately to the service needs of each community.

Occupying such an important position in Industry, as would be expected the demand for the company's service is reflected in the steady increase in yearly earnings and in dividends to shareholders.

1,000 NEW STREET SIGNS ARE NEEDED

Survey of City Is Made Preparatory to Marking Highways.

Preliminary to carrying out the city manager's project for new street signs to replace the present worn-out and dilapidated plates, many of which are missing and the majority of those still hanging almost illegible, a survey has been made of the city by Joseph Lusik, assistant city engineer. The check-up shows that to provide an entirely new system 1,000 signs will be needed.

No decision has yet been reached as to what kind of signs will be selected. The original plan of the manager was to obtain stencils and have the street department make the signs of wood and paint them. This may still be carried out, although consideration is being given to other plans.

Pleasant street, Mineral Point avenue, Jackson, Main, Franklin and Milwaukee streets, Milton avenue and Washington street are among the thoroughfares which will require the most new signs.

A clean-up of the city's store yard adjoining the pumping station by South street was made by street workers this week, and efforts will be made to keep it in good condition in the future. Gutter plates were found buried under several inches of refuse and dirt. It is planned to fence in the property and the request is made that people refrain from dumping refuse on the yard.

In making his survey for the new street signs, Mr. Lusik discovered among many other defects to be corrected, six manhole tops missing. These will be replaced.

Military Honors

for Wm. Royce, 28;

Buried in Hanover

With military rites in charge of Commander John W. Gross, Jr., of the Richard Ellis post here, the body of William Frederick Royce, 28, Hanover, a victim of wounds received five years ago in action overseas with the 86th division, was buried at Hanover Tuesday.

Robert Cunningham, Janesville, officiated as chaplain and the firing squad from the Janesville Tank Corps in charge of Sgt. Martin Eyer.

Members of the Orfordville Legion post assisted the services held at 1 p. m. at the home in Hanover and at 1:30 at the Plymouth Methodist church. Burial was in the Plymouth cemetery.

Cates in Again;

Wife Claims He

Threatened Her

H. L. Cates is in jail again, this time on a charge of driving while intoxicated and a previous conviction. His bail was fixed at $1,500 by Judge H. L. Maxfield and he was held for trial, Dec. 5.

According to the report of Cates' wife, he became intoxicated Monday night and threatened her. She says she ran into a neighbor's house and he followed her, breaking a window and a door in attempting to gain admittance.

He then got into his car and drove away, it is alleged. When he returned, Patrolmen Lennartz, Ward and Handy were there and arrested him.

Chief Is Silent

on Police Rumors

With City Manager Henry Traxler out of the city, Chief Charles Newman refused to make any statement Tuesday in regard to reports of alleged misconduct of Patrolman William Saxby. It was also rumored Tuesday that Patrolman Patrick Stein had a mix-up with a youth Monday night but the chief also deferred making any statement on this until the return of the manager. Mr. Traxler and Councilman C. Starr Atwood went to Joliet, Ill., Monday, on city business and had not returned up to 2:30 p. m. Tuesday.

DOUGLAS SCHOOL

TO HAVE PROGRAM

All grades of the Douglas school will participate in the Thanksgiving program to be presented at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, in the kindergarten room of the school. The program is as follows: First grade, "The Frightened Pumpkin," school folk dance; "Story of Squanto and the Pilgrims," Catherine Clay and Allen Beyzer; "Indian War Dance," school; second grade, "Thanksgiving in the Iken House," dramatization; third grade, reading of a Thanksgiving poem, Edith Hall; and "Thanksgiving Song," school; fourth grade, "Thanksgiving Day," John Rabeolo; duet, Lillian Berry and Florence Brannhill; fifth grade, "Our First Thanksgiving Day," or "The Mother of Thanksgiving," second grade. Thanksgiving song; kindergarten, "Thanksgiving Day," song; "America," by all.

BELOIT MAN IS

GRANTED DIVORCE

Howard Allen, 429 Locust street, Beloit, was granted a divorce from his wife, Emma Allen, by Judge George Grimm on Monday afternoon. Cruelty was alleged. Judge John Clark, Beloit, appeared for the plaintiff.

Shirley Roode, Evansville, was granted a divorce from Arthur Roode during a recent hearing before Judge Grimm.

JURY IS DRAWN FOR TRIAL OF GEO. HAUGEN

Trial of George Haugen, Edgerton, on two counts of a statutory charge is expected to occur in municipal court here this week. A jury having been drawn for the case Tuesday, Haugen, a married man, is charged with having had relations with Bertha Johnson.

When the information was filed against him, Tuesday, by District Attorney S. C. Dunneville, he pleaded not guilty on both counts. George Blanchard, Edgerton, is his attorney. The jury will be selected from the following list of Janesville men: Harry Ziecher, John Marty, E. E. Brooks, J. A. McDonough, Patrick Connors, Louis W. Paul, George Sligham, George Snider, Harry Devereaux, E. L. Edgerton, William D. Riley, S. G. Lacy, A. P. Duthie, Harold Jude, E. A. Muenchow, George Mortenson and Otto Pappe.

Four women jurors were stricken from the list by the attorneys.

Intense Drive to Put Tournery Over

Top Is Started

A definite plan of covering the city and bringing into the fold every possible subscriber to the scheme of underwriting the entry of 500 teams in the Wisconsin state bowling tournament from Janesville, was started at a meeting of the campaigners at the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday morning.

The drive is not coming so rapidly as at first anticipated. It was brought out in the meeting. The object of the canvassers now is to organize for a cleanup that may take longer than expected.

Some of those who have promised to post the five or ten dollar bond, under their mode of business operation, to make payment until later. Optimism continues to pervade the workers, however, who are positive that Janesville will take the convention from the civic standpoint and give to the meet a larger entry than put over by any city in the state in the past, including Milwaukee.

Legion Launches

Drive for Members

Plans for a membership campaign which will be launched Dec. 1 in conjunction with a statewide program, will be discussed at the meeting of the Richard Ellis post here Tuesday night. A surprise program has been worked out. According to announcement of Commander John W. Gross, Jr., an attempt will be made during the campaign which continues until Dec. 29 to increase the membership of the Janesville post from 200 to 500. This will put it among the largest posts in the state and give it a larger voice in state conventions.

In connection with the campaign, interesting displays of war trophies and relics will be held at several stores. Mr. Gross requests those having relics to leave them at the Golden Eagle or notify Charles Garthwright.

Ralph J. Kamps, former commander of the Janesville post, goes to Milton Tuesday night to install the officers of that post.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE NEVILLY.

With the tremendous sweep of action, characteristic of the Zane Grey romance, "The Last Man" pulsates with such lively performances as to eliminate two powerful families, down to the last man in each clan. In spite of the picture smacking somewhat of the old time melodrama of the west, "The Last Man" is a highly entertaining and truly worthwhile offering.

First, the cast is entirely satisfactory, with Lois Wilson playing the part of the rugged mountain girl, Ellen Jorth, and Richard Dix, the half breed trapper, Jean Isabel. Noah Beery and Robert Edison have notable roles. Both the hero and heroine are well cast in that they possess the wholesome likeable qualities that the author of this popular novel painted with such perfection.

This tale is based upon the "Pleasant Valley War" which ravaged the Tonto Basin of Arizona in the late 1800s, in which two families, the Jethells and the Jorths and their sympathizers, fought, literally to the last man, taken under the personal direction of Zane Grey, the picture abounds in marvelous scenes of the western country. The scene overlooking the "rim" is one of the most majestic ever attempted on the silver screen.

For a diversion after so much bloodshed, a Larry Simon comedy, "The Midnight Cabaret," is offered. Written by the acrobatic comedian, the picture gives the star many chances to exhibit his skill.

AT THE AVOLLO.

"Trilby," the entrancing novel which thrilled a million readers in the early twenties, has been reintroduced through the picturization of that famous story by George Du Maurier, which has been presented at the Apollo this week. The novel itself was extraordinary in theme, so that this, coupled with a satisfactory cast, makes for an unusual picture.

Andre Lafayette, a mademoiselle with perfect feet, is playing her American debut, in this picture and proves an ideal "Trilby." She plays the part of a strange creature, the Latin quarter of Paris, unsophisticated in spite of her surroundings and the demands made upon her as an artist's model. Those who are not acquainted with the plot of the story will not be as duly impressed by the star, as she warrants. Her beauty is unusual, her features classic.

The art direction of Richard Walton Tully is a notable achievement. Mr. Tully spent several months in Europe, during which time he took many scenes in the very locations described by the French author.

Creighton Hale, a juvenile actor, plays to perfection the part of "Little Blue," the youthful, sensitive, aristocratic Englishman. Most fascinating of all the character is Arthur Edmund Carewe as Swenson, the vaudeville musician and sinister mesmerist. Other stars who lend much to the picture are the players, Francis McDonald, Maurice Cannon, Max Constant, Philo McCulloch, and Wilfred Lister.

While the picture may not prove to the general public as entertaining as "my" others, it is so wholly artistic and utterly different as to compel much attention.

Former Rockford Educator Found

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Rockford, Ill.—A triangle is held responsible for the disappearance of J. C. McGlade, former district superintendent of Waterloo, Ia., schools, and for years assistant superintendent at Rockford, who was found in Omaha. McGlade is reported to be suffering from a nervous breakdown.

He is said to have admitted to his wife his infatuation for another woman, living at Minneapolis, before leaving home five days ago. It is understood his wife, however, will allow a reconciliation.

PROMISE WITH $150 TO ATTEND CLINIC

Arrested several weeks ago for failure to attend the medical clinic regularly, Fern Morris and Peter Smirz have been released from custody on bonds of $150 each. The money was put up to insure the carrying out of their promise to take regular treatments for one year.

HOW TO ANSWER CLASSIFIED ADS.

In answering classified or want ads, which ask that the applicant address some certain number, Gazette, such as 147, our readers are asked to bear in mind that this office has nothing to do with the advertiser. Those answering must bring their answers to the person who advertised. He in turn, will then, if he desires, telephone or write to the person who is seeking the position.

It must also be borne in mind that the Gazette does not have the right of the advertiser, who of course, would not have advertised as he did if he wished the applicants to call on him in person.

CLASSIFIED AD REPLIES

At 10:00 o'clock today there were replies in the Gazette office in the following list:

63, 74, 75, 76, 81, 82, 84.
